

WOJEWÓDZKI KONKURS JĘZYKA ANGIELSKIEGO TRANSKRYPCJA (ZAD. 1)

INSTRUKCJA 1. Wskazane jest, aby wyznaczeni przez przewodniczącego członkowie komisji konkursowej zapoznali się z tekstem na kilka minut przed jego odczytaniem (np. w czasie rozdawania uczniom testów i czytania przez nich instrukcji.)

2. Przed przystąpieniem do czytania należy polecić uczniom dokładne zapoznanie się z poleceniem i treścią zadania, a następnie odczekać 30s.

3. Tekst należy odczytać dwukrotnie głośno i wyraźnie w możliwie naturalnym, niezbyt szybkim tempie, stojąc twarzą do uczestników konkursu (jeśli to możliwe, za każdym razem inny członek komisji i z innego miejsca w sali, zawsze twarzą do uczniów). Przed drugim czytaniem należy zrobić krótką przerwę (ok. 30 sekund).

4. Przewodniczący komisji konkursowej powinien sprawdzić salę – jeśli konkurs odbywa się w dużej sali, gdzie może być słaba słyszalność, należy użyć nagłośnienia.

It was 2010 and after spending Christmas with our family, my wife and I decided to book a room at a guest house in Yorkshire to spend New Year's Eve there. It was a very famous place because it had beautiful views and was supposed to be the highest located guest house in the UK. While we were driving there we heard on the radio that it was going to snow, but it didn't really worry us because we're from the north and we're used to snow. Anyway, we arrived in the afternoon and we got dressed for dinner. There were about 30 guests and we were having a great time. Midnight was approaching and I noticed that it started snowing very heavily. We went to bed late, but when we woke up next morning, we realized that it was impossible to leave because there were piles of snow everywhere. The roads were completely blocked and cars were buried under mountains of snow. Everybody was stuck there for two more nights. But it wasn't a problem at all. There were worse places to be stuck than in a guest house. In fact we had a great time. We all helped a bit with preparing the food and we did the washing up after the meals. As there were no board games available at the guest house, in the evenings we invented some games and quizzes. Thanks to this, we all got to know each other better. On January 3rd they finally cleared the roads with snow ploughs and we were able to leave. But I have to say it was the best New Year's Eve ever.
